DETAILED ACTION

Request for Continued Examination

The request filed on July 28, 2003 (Paper No. 10) for a Continued Examination (RCE) under 37 CFR 1.53(d) based on parent Application No. 10/072,032 is acceptable and an RCE has been established. An action on the RCE follows.

Claims 1, 4-11, 12, 13, 15-18, 21, and 22 have been canceled. Claims 23 and 24 are pending in this application.

Drawings

The drawings were received on May 20, 2003 (Paper No. 7). These drawings are approved.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 23 and 24 are rendered indefinite since it is unclear from the language of the recitations "at least two display panels", "an underlying panel", and "an overlying panel" what exactly is being claimed. In particular, since line 4 of claim 23 and line 2 of claim 24 recite "at least two display panels" it is unclear whether the "underlying" and "overlying" panels are these "two" panels.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Engel et al. '665.

Engel et al. '665 disclose a display device comprising a rack (the binder 10) with at least one support member (20) and a body portion (at 14 and back cover, e.g., 40) extending therefrom; a first array and a second array, i.e., "Jason" is the first array and "Clark" is the second array, whereby the first array is mounted on a first side (left side of Figure 2) of the support member (22) and the second array is mounted on a second side (right side of Figure 2) of the support member (22), i.e., when the pages that contain the letters which spell "Jason" are turned about the support member from the right side in Figure 2 to the left side in Figure 2, the first array would be on the first side; each of the first and second arrays having at least display panels (like 20) each mounted at an inner edge to the support member (22) whereby the two display panels define an underlying panel and an overlying panel, i.e., in the first array "J" is the overlying panel and "A" is the underlying panel" and in the second array "C" is the overlying panel and "L" is the underlying panel; each of the panels having a sample, e.g., J, A, C, L, etc. of a displayed material mounted thereon substantially adjacent a free edge distal from the inner edge; each of the panels having a height, i.e., from bottom to top in Figure 2, and a width, i.e., between the inner edge and the distal edge, whereby the width of the overlying panel, i.e., J and C, is sufficiently less than the width of the underlying panel, i.e., A or L, so that the material (A or L) is visible beyond the free edge of the overlying panel (J or C).

It is noted that the claims do not define what the "sample of displayed material" is and hence the letters are considered to define this element. In particular, it is noted that the claims do not define whether this "material" is a textile. It is noted that any information, e.g., letters, numbers, colors, etc., can be defined as "material".

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 23 and 24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
